PREFACE.

2003591

THE compiler sends forth this Manual with the hope that it will be of assistance to his brethren in the ministry and laity. The information contained in it is what many of the older members of the Conference have been called upon to give: it is now brought together in one volume, open to all.

None but those who have engaged in similar work, can understand the labor involved. Hours have been spent in following up the record of a single name, and then failing to gain any satisfactory knowledge of it. In some instances names were dropped from the Conference roll and no record made of it, especially in the first few years of its organization. In the preparation of this Manual, the written and printed official records have been searched, newspapers examined, correspondence carried on with persons in various parts of the country, and interviews had with those who were in a position to know the facts desired. Yet, after all had been done, in some instances the information gained was quite meager and unsatisfactory. And yet, we believe that the Manual is, in the main, accurate, and contains all the information available. We are indebted to Rev. G. T. Reynolds, of the Pittsburg Conference, for the plan, and the use of the same; and to Rev. C. G. Hudson, Secretary of our Conference, for favors shown; also, to Rev. W. J. Vigus, and other members of our Conference, for important information.

Conference Classes.

EXPLANATORY.—The items preceding the name of each member show his record previous to his coming to the North Indiana Conference. The first date given is the date of his admission on trial in the Conference, the name of which follows. The letter or letters immediately preceding the name indicate how he came to the North Indiana Conference. "Ad.," that he was admitted on trial. "Trans.," that he came by transfer, and from the Conference the name of which precedes the letters. "Re-ad.," means that he was re-admitted. The items following the name show his record after entering the North Indiana Conference. The other abbreviations used, besides those mentioned, are "Ex.," expelled; "Dis.," discontinued; "Lo.," located; "Con.," Conference; "Ret.," returned to the North Indiana Conference after a membership in some other Conference. When the date follows the name of the Conference without the "Trans.," mark, (as for example "Southeast Ind. 1878") it means that the member fell into that Conference through a change in boundary lines.

List of Apoinments.

The Indiana Conference was organized in 1832, being set off from the Illinois Conference by the General Conference of that year.

In 1844 the Conference was divided into Indiana and North Indiana Conference, by the National Road, which runs through the center of the State from east to west. In 1852, the State was divided into four conferences, called Indiana, South Indiana, North Indiana, and Northwest Indiana. October 16-21, 1844, the North Indiana Conference held its first session at Fort Wayne. Bishop Waugh presided.
